

THE WHITE-T'S INTEREST TURNS TO HORSE SHOW

Now Comes a Lull of Two Months in Society's Activities—A Review of Season in Which the Dance Has Played a Major Part—Engagements

It will be at least two months before social activities will be resumed in the city, and while the transient visitors are leaving Newport and other resorts most of the principal country places will be left open until the end of October. Another summer season has been busy enough for all on pleasure bent. That in Southampton began much earlier than in other resorts and kept up all along. Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish really began the Newport season with her costume party of August 1, but afterward there was a decided lull until tennis week, when the colony became much larger and there were men enough for dinners and dances, which kept up until the end of last week. There was scarcely a night without dancing from August 18 until last Friday, when Mrs. Richard T. Wilson's party ended the season of dances. The most distinguished of all the foreign visitors in Newport was the Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, who was in the city during the last week of a week, as his visit was rather uncertainly all the entertainments, particularly those in his honor, were hurriedly arranged. The Duke had luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Whitehouse on Thursday and dined before leaving that night with Mrs. Richard Gambrill. Before sailing on the France this week he will renew his visit with Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner Gayley, who were his hosts for the first time among strangers, as all who entertained him in Newport had met him frequently in Paris, London or in the south of France. He seemed to be much taken with the Newport season, remaining until 3 o'clock last Tuesday morning, having the full enjoyment of her dance.

All the leading villas in Southampton will remain open until the early part of November, and such will be the case in Lenox, where the autumn season is now in full swing.

There were several late departures for Europe last week, especially on the Lusitania. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page sailed on the steamship and will first go to England, then to Rome, where Mr. Page will enter upon his duties as ambassador to Italy. The Imperial visit was sailed on the Lusitania, will join Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steele and his fiancée, Miss Nancy Steele, returning with them next month. The wedding of Miss Steele and Mr. Milburn will be celebrated on November 1 in Westbury, L. I.

Another who sailed on the Lusitania was Mrs. Meredith Howland, who had been making visits in Bar Harbor and New York. She will return to her home in Paris and will go to Pau for the winter. Dr. Edward L. Keyes, Jr., went to his home in the south of France, where he is to be placed at St. Raphael, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Augustus Barnard sailed for a brief visit in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Channing M. Denew, who sailed early in June, returned last week. Mr. Denew is now in the city and is now a benefit for several weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Hargis also came back on that steamship. A child was born to them shortly after their arrival. Mrs. Hargis appointed Ambassador to Germany. James W. Gerard, who left Newport last week, will shortly sail with Mrs. Gerard, who has been in Montana, to take up his duties in Berlin.

Several prominent people of New York have figured in the life in Danard, France, during this season. Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gilford left there ten days ago for London and they are sailing on the St. Louis from Southampton on Saturday. They will first go to Lakewood, N. J., where they have a country place, and will take a house in New York for the winter. Another of the New York debutantes who was in Danard, was Miss Marie Louise Rodewald, second daughter of W. MacNeill Rodewald of Tuxedo and this city. Mr. Rodewald and his daughter returned here a fortnight ago, leaving at once for Newport, where a dinner was given for Miss Rodewald by Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman. It was practically her debut in society. After the dinner Mrs. Stuart Danard's barn dance claimed all of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman's guests and many others.

Mr. and Mrs. Haliburton Bridgman, formerly of New York, were much in evidence at Danard, where they gave frequent entertainments. Mrs. Bridgman was before her second marriage Mrs. Honoring Vail and for several years she and Mr. Bridgman have been living in Paris, making an occasional visit to New York.

There are great preparations for the coming winter season, when the list of debutantes will number quite 100. Dates for some of the private dances were selected months ago, but the majority of them will have to be decided on as soon as the heads of families return to their homes for the winter. The junior cotillions will be resumed and the first of the dances is set for December 2 at Sherry's. Another set of dances that met with great success last winter will be continued. The managers will be Mrs. S. B. Ogden Cholmon, Mrs. J. Herbert Johnston, Mrs. Edward S. Knapp and Archibald Rogers. The first dance is set for December 5.

Another set of subscription dances, which the Colony dances, will be continued during the winter and the first will be held at the Colony Club on Monday, December 29. The patronesses for the coming season are Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, Mrs. H. Casimir De Rham,

Mrs. William Church Osborn, Mrs. Robert P. Huntington, Mrs. Edward T. H. Talmage, Mrs. Russell H. Hoadley, Jr., Henry H. Landon and Mrs. Winthrop Barry. The subscription list is limited to less than 100 and will include girls who are to be introduced to society next year and the year after. With so many debutantes it will be necessary to begin receptions early in November, and beyond doubt the afternoon dance will be quite the thing, as it was last year.

Society is interested in the engagement announced recently of Miss Anita Peabody, daughter of Charles A. Peabody, to Hamilton Hadden, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith Hadden. Miss Peabody, who was introduced to society a few years ago, is prominent in the summer colonies of Long Island, where she usually passes each season. She is an enthusiastic follower of outdoor sports, and, like her fiancée, is a familiar figure at race meets and among the hunt followers on Long Island. Her brother, Julian L. Peabody, married Miss Celestine Hitchcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock of Westbury, L. I., at their estate in Aiken, S. C., on March 28 last. Another brother is John D. Peabody, Mr. Peabody and his daughter are at Cold Spring Harbor, L. I. Their New York home is at 224 Madison avenue.

Mr. Hadden lives on his parents' estate, Uniondale Farm, in Hempstead, L. I. He was graduated from Harvard in 1908 and is a member of the Meadow Brook Club of Long Island, Knickerbocker and other clubs in this city. No date has been fixed for the wedding.

Another interesting engagement recently announced was that of Miss Justine Ingersoll, daughter of a former marriage of Mrs. Robert Taylor Varium, to Dr. Harold Sears Arnold of New Haven, Conn. Miss Ingersoll, who was introduced to society two years ago, passed the early part of the season with her mother as Southampton, L. I. Later Mrs. Varium went to Europe to join her husband and Miss Ingersoll left for the Adirondacks, where she is now staying. She is a sister of Mrs. Roger M. Minton, and Hamilton Ingersoll is her brother.

Dr. Arnold, who is one of the most prominent physicians in New Haven, returned from Europe recently, where he was a delegate to the International Medical Congress. The wedding will take place some time next month.

Mrs. Gardiner Gayley has announced the engagement of her second daughter, Miss Agnes Gayley, to Gerrish H. Milliken, son of Seth Milliken of New York. Miss Gayley and her sister, Miss Florence Gayley, have been passing the season with their mother in North East Harbor, Me. Their New York home is at 20 Washington Square North. Another sister, Miss Mary Gayley, married Count Giulio Senni of Rome, Italy, in 1907.

Mr. Milliken is widely known in New York society. He is a member of the Union League, University, Eiding, Rumson and Sleepy Hollow clubs and of Squadron "A." He was graduated from Yale in 1898.

Among the engagements of interest announced during the summer was that of Miss Gladys Roosevelt to Fairman Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evans Dick of New York and Garrison on Hudson. Miss Roosevelt is a daughter of John E. Roosevelt of Sayville, L. I., where she has been for the summer at the Roosevelt country place, Meadowcroft. She is a niece of Col. Theodore Roosevelt and is a cousin of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

The engagement was announced in Philadelphia last week of Miss Helen Voorhees, daughter of Theodore Voorhees of Bikini Park, Pa., to Francois de St. Phalle, formerly of Paris, but now of Philadelphia. Miss Voorhees, who has spent a great deal of her time travelling abroad, is a sister of Mrs. Charles Randolph Wood and of Mrs. Voorhees Drayton.

As usual some of the early fall weddings will be celebrated in the country, and as there seems to be quite a few ahead many of the country estates will be kept open until well on in the autumn. The wedding of Miss Marjorie Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair, will take place on September 20 at the country place of the bride's parents in Jeppack, N. J. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Blair will leave for Virginia Hot Springs.

In St. John's Church, Far Rockaway, on September 27 will be celebrated the wedding of Miss Laura Pelton Hazard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hazard, to Frederick Rindelander Brown. After the ceremony there will be a reception at the country place of Mr. and Mrs. Hazard, Meadow Hall, in Lawrence, L. I.

Miss Phoebe Manice, daughter of Mrs. Heston Manice of Flushing, L. I., will be married to Wharton Poor of New York in St. George's Chapel, Flushing, L. I., on October 8. Miss Manice is the daughter of Norman Grant of Dongan Hills, Staten Island, as her matron of honor and the Misses Frances and Katherine Manice will be their sister's bridesmaids. Dr. Forest Manice, brother of the bride, will act as best man.

The wedding of Miss Rosamond Burr, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Burr, to Albert B. Kerr, son of the late Senator James Kerr of Pennsylvania, will be celebrated on October 11. The ceremony will take place on the lawn at the country place of the bride's parents in Lawrence, L. I., and will be followed by a reception. A special train will take guests from New York for the ceremony.

Week at Newport Made Interesting by the Show and by Visit of Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, the Guest of Mrs. Astor

Newport, Sept. 6.—No titled visitor coming to this city for several seasons has been more royally entertained than has the Grand Duke of Russia, Alexander Michaelovitch, who during the week has been the guest of Mrs. John Astor at Beechwood and Ambassador and Mme. Bakmeteff at the Russian Embassy.

It has seemed as though the members of the summer colony did not have opportunity to do enough for the Duke, and now that he has arrived, or the fact that he was coming had been made known, than a regular procession of luncheons and dinner parties was arranged in his honor. Further than this the Duke reached here in horse show week and his presence there attracted considerable attention.

Being his hostess, Mrs. Astor was the first to entertain his Highness. She gave a dinner on the night of his arrival and also gave other entertainments for him, including a picnic party on Tuesday afternoon. It was during this picnic that Mrs. Astor heard of the sudden death of her brother, J. R. Barton, a fellow in Philadelphia and she was obliged to leave for guests, hurry home and prepare to go to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Astor had planned to remain late at her home here and was counted upon as one of the prominent figures in the summer colony, but the death of J. R. Barton will remove her from the entertaining list, and whether or not it will cause her to close her season here is not known at this time.

Ambassador and Mme. Bakmeteff gave a luncheon and dinner for the Duke and luncheons were also given in his honor by Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas and Mrs. H. Augustus Barnard. His dinner guests included Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and Mrs. Robert Golet, and Daniel von Haimhausen, Charge d'Affaires of the German Embassy, also gave a dinner for him on Thursday night.

There has been plenty of other entertaining during the week and the domino party which Mrs. Richard T. Wilson gave on Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Rollins Moore, honoree of the season's debutantes, was one of the feature entertainments. Mrs. Herbert Shipman's dance also came in for its share of prominence in the programme of the week.

This coming week there is not so much upon the social calendar as far as known now. Mrs. Richard Gambrill has cards out for a dinner party for Wednesday night and Mrs. William Storrs Wells has a dinner arranged for Friday night. On Wednesday night also there is a musical programme that is attracting more or less attention for it is under the patronage of Ambassador and Mrs. Bakmeteff, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cuttiss James, Senator and Mrs. George Peabody Wetmore and Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs. The attraction will be the Russian Ballala orchestra of New York, assisted by several Russian opera soloists.

The present week has seen the last large figure of the present Newport season pass into history. It was the seventeenth annual horse show at the Casino, and while the entries were not quite so numerous as in some previous years it was a show of quality. Edward Leary went into the show in earnest this year, and that he has the best array of horseflesh here will be attested by his many friends in the summer colony, for the horses carried off a major portion of the ribbons and prize money, several of the cottagers remaining here through the month, and afternoon teas follow the practice tennis matches at the Point Judith Country Club, which is a favorite rendezvous for members of the villa colony at the Point Judith.

One of the entertainments of the week was a costume dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Hazard of Peacedale on Monday night at their country place, Oakwoods, which is three or four miles from Narragansett. The dance was given in honor of Miss Beatrice Wetmore of Warren, Pa. About forty of the cottagers at Narragansett and Peacedale were invited to the event, Pierrots and gleeettes, dairymaids and farmer boys, dancing girls, and daughters of the Orient were personated by the dancers.

Narragansett may possibly have a new bathing beach by next season. A plan has been proposed by some of the cottagers to secure a portion of the Scarborough beach and to build a new bathing pavilion before the advent of next summer. Scarborough beach is located about half way or more between the Pier village and Point Judith light. If Scarborough beach is secured it is the plan of the cottagers to make the place an exclusive resort for members of the villa colony.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Davis, who motored here from Southampton recently, plan to join the cottage colony at the Pier next season. Ensign Theodore Wilkinson, U. S. N., who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson, at Rosalind cottage, has left the Pier to go on board the Florida at Newport, which will later sail for the Mediterranean.

Among arrivals at the Imperial are Dr. F. C. Cruger Edgerton, R. B. Patterson, Jr., L. B. Harding and O. C. Brown of New York; E. W. G. Gilbert of New Haven, Conn., and Frank A. Russell of Brookline, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Mills of Philadelphia, who occupied Blairton on the Cliffs during the summer have departed for the north shore of Massachusetts. Mrs. Eastman Johnson of New York is registered at Green's Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rathbone of New Orleans, La., closed their villa here for the season on Thursday.

notable victories being scored over the entries from Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Oakland Farm stables.

On each of the three days of the show there was a notable gathering of society folk present. There were some brilliant arrays of the dressmaker's art and the interest in the show was maintained until the last.

Next year the show will be a little later than usual, the management announcing that the dates of September 7, 8 and 9 had been reserved for the eighteenth annual exhibit. This brings the show into the second week of the month and naturally will tend to prolong the season a little.

Appendicitis seems to have appeared again this week among the summer residents, three operations being the toll of a week's time. All were sudden cases, two being performed at home and one at the hospital. The latter was John Neilson of New York and the former were Miss Anita Grosvenor, daughter of Mrs. William Grosvenor, and Mrs. J. Stewart Barney.

The week has seen the closing of the season for a few of the summer residents, but on the other hand a larger number have announced that they would remain later than usual, some until the end of October and into the month of November.

FALL SEASON INAUGURATED AT WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 6.—The fall season here, which was inaugurated with the arrival of a big throng Saturday, Sunday and on Labor Day, promises to eclipse the summer season, which has been the gayest in the history of White Sulphur.

R. Livingston Beckman, who left Newport last week in his private car, is arriving here next week, when he will be joined by Mrs. Beckman and a party of friends, who will be at The White until the New Greenbrier opens.

Mrs. Henry M. Flager will arrive from Braintree this week with her mother, Mrs. Keenan of Kenansville, N. C., and later they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones. Early in October Mr. and Mrs. John Russell Pope and their infant will come down for the annual course of baths and the "cure."

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Harriman will close their season at Newport tomorrow and be here for the fall season. A large contingent of the Southampton summer colony is arriving here. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Dilworth and Mrs. Henry G. Trevor are among others who will spend September and October here.

Some of those who have left hotel cottages and are here include Dr. and Mrs. John Herndon French and their family, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Fairfax Whiting and the Misses Alice and Julia Whiting, Col. and Mrs. Virgil Robinson, who have just returned from a visit with the latter's sister, Mrs. William Grosvenor of Newport, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Nixon, who arrived early in the week to take the "cure."

Others arriving included Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Stettinius, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Blair, Mrs. James F. Harbour, Miss Marguerite Harbour, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Neilson Voss, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Williams, Miss Mary N. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. C. Kohlbaat.

Dog Show Features in an Important Week at Lenox

Lenox, Sept. 6.—The interest of the cottage colonies in the Berkshire mountains and out of door life was manifested in the dog show which was held at Lenox. The parade with sports was carried out a fund having been raised by the cottagers for the day. At Stockbridge there was a day given to the anniversary of the United Hill Association, the parent of the improvement association in America, with an auxiliary exhibit of trees, the planting and forestry. At Tiringham there was the annual "Community Day" under the auspices of the cottagers.

Next week will be the most important in the social interest of the season. On Friday will be held the sixth annual open dog show and Friday night Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hargis will give a dance at the Lenox Hotel. The exhibitors and guests of the cottagers, Saturday will witness the opening of the annual Stockbridge art exhibition, on that evening Mr. and Mrs. Charles Astor Husted will give a dance at Lenox.

High interest has been taken in the dog show tournament at the Country Club at Lenox. Among those who played were Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish Bonaparte, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Greenleaf, Mr. and Mrs. Bayard C. Hoppin, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur La Motte, Mr. and Mrs. Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. George de Gersdorf, Mr. and Mrs. T. Rice, Mrs. Whitney, Miss Grace Sedgwick, Mr. and Mrs. David T. Dana, Marshall R. Kernochan, Major C. H. V. Bunbury, Francis Stanton Blake, George Batty Blake, Samuel Frothingham and others of the Lenox colony.

Since returning from the Little Cascapedia River in Canada, where they have been fishing, Mr. and Mrs. Giraud Foster have resumed their series of large entertainments at Bellefontaine. Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold gave this week dinners and luncheons to entertain Mr. and Mrs. Louis Watjen and Mr. and Mrs. James Greenway. Others who gave dinners were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hollister Pease, who have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Delafield, Mr. and Mrs. J. Woodward Haven, Miss Kate Cary and Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Salisbury. Luncheons have been given by Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Crownshield in honor of Mr. William M. Bullitt and Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Dixey.

Of interest in the Pittsfield colony was the announcement on Monday of the engagement of Miss Fanny Ogden West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. West of Chicago, to Donald Frazer McPherson of Chicago. Mr. McPherson has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. West at Court Hill in Pittsfield.

Arriving at the hotels for September were Mrs. William S. Kernochan, Mrs. Isaac McConchie of New York, Mrs. Robert turned to Stockbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. William Albert Slater, Jr., of Washington this week bought the Home Farm estate of Dr. Henry P. and Eustace Jaques.

At the Lenox Club Friday night was a very lively dance held under the auspices of the house committee. The presence of many large house parties in Lenox gave the dance an interesting place in the entertainments arranged by the cottagers. Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Salisbury gave a dance to-night, entertaining for their son, Kimball Salisbury.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Chapman at Hotel Aspinwall.

Mrs. Joseph H. Choate gave a tea on Monday entertaining for Mrs. Benjamin Harrison. Mrs. Choate has Mrs. George de Gersdorf as her guest. Mr. Choate and Miss Mable Choate, who have been in Montreal to meet Viscount Haldane and Miss Haldane of England, have re-

MANY ATTRACTIONS FOR VISITORS AT ASHEVILLE

BATTERY PARK HOTEL, Asheville, N. C., Sept. 6.—The attractions for the hundreds of visitors who are enjoying the late summer days at this resort during the past week have been many and varied, the interest centering in the annual tennis tournament held during the week at the Country Club. In the perpetual golf tournament Mr. Clarence Hobart of New York is fourth on the list.

The younger set at the Country Club who so successfully arranged and participated in the private theatricals held at the Manor recently by the entertainment raised over $300 for the benefit of the new Mission Hospital. The following New Yorkers were noticed in the audience: Mr. and Mrs. Livingston, Mrs. Elmore Sloan, Miss Marguerite Logan and Robert Whitehead.

Quite a number of guests went out to Riverside Park Labor Day to watch the sports, consisting of foot races, diving contests, swimming races, and to participate in the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Klipper of New York were recent visitors here.

NEW SPIRIT OF LIFE AT HOT SPRINGS, VA.

HOT SPRINGS, VA., Sept. 6.—The new northeast wing of the Homestead Hotel, together with an octagonal addition to the dining room, and a new semi-circular corridor connecting the new wing with the original building were opened for Labor Day, and advance bookings indicate that the enlarged hotel will be filled to its capacity for the next eight weeks.

The first of the gay dinner parties of the autumn season occurred at the elaborate menu they left their seats to turkey trot and tango. Among the guests were Miss Hilah C. French of New York, Barton French, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hulbert of Cincinnati, who were guests at Barton Lodge.

The party was entertained at a table d'hôte in the afternoon at Barton Lodge by Miss Charles French and Barton French.

A dancant was given in the Japanese Room of the Homestead yesterday afternoon by Miss Katherine Legalls of Chicago, who entertained a score or more of young people, cabaret singers furnishing music for the dancing.

September Motor Trips Allure Those at Narragansett Pier

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Sept. 6.—Early September days at Narragansett are devoted to motoring in this region of Rhode Island, to Point Judith light, and to the country toward Kingston, along the Boston Neck road to Saunderson, and then by ferry to Jamestown and on to Newport.

Tennis and golf are popular pastimes for the cottagers remaining here through the month, and afternoon teas follow the practice tennis matches at the Point Judith Country Club, which is a favorite rendezvous for members of the villa colony at the Point Judith.
